To my dear kid, BeuiBui,

Now I'm in Canada. I've been here for a month and I just realized that English is very important. For example, I can solve many math problems but I can't explain it in English, that's my problem. Not only in class but also in everyday life, it's very hard for me to communicate to people in English.

I wish I could go back in the past and learn more English before coming here. Wherever you are at the moment, I want you to realize how important English is in nowadays. If it's possible, after you're good at English, it's good to know some other languages.

I hope you're reading my letter with a smile and enjoy your happy life with you lovely family and friends.

Love,
BamBam
